

Introduction

This Customer Notice is issued to advise Customers of a series of proposed workshops that LLWR will undertake to begin consultation with our Customers on the potential impact of the recently submitted Environmental Safety Case (ESC).

ESC Implementation and Impact Workshop

Low Level Waste Repository Ltd (LLWR) achieved a major milestone when we submitted our ESC to the Environment Agency on the 1st May 2011.

In order to begin the consultation process with our customers, and discuss these proposed changes, LLWR are holding four workshops at various locations around the UK.

These workshops will explain the new ESC and discuss the proposed changes to the Waste Acceptance Criteria (WAC). The sessions will give customers an opportunity to consider the potential impact to their disposal options and enable them to ask pertinent questions relating to their waste streams.

LLWR will engage with our customers to resolve any difficulties that may result from the implementation of the ESC.

Following the completion of the consultation process, there is an expectation that the proposed requirements of the new ESC will be implemented around October 2012 utilising an amended WAC.

Workshop dates and locations can be found below.
